Preservation of Endangered Languages.

Date: 3rd-4th December 2022.

Venue: Central Hall, Gondwana University, Gadchiroli.

To. _____

Respected Sir/Madam,

It is a moment of pleasure for all of us to invite you to participate in the Two Days National Conference on National Education Policy 2020 Dimensions in Language and Literature: Preservation of Endangered Languages. The conference aims to get a comprehensive outfit covering all aspects of dimensions of National Education Policy 2020 in language and literature and create awareness about the preservation of endangered languages. This conference welcomes your valuable ideas for implementing National Education Policy 2020 and preserving endangered languages like Gondi, Madia, and Chhattisgarhi. We hope that your suggestions, and recommendations received at this conference, will pave the way for the implementation of the National Educational Policy 2020.

About PGTD English

Gondwana University Gadchiroli was established on 27th September 2011 by the Government of Maharashtra for the districts of Chandrapur and Gadchiroli. As these districts have certain underprivileged sections of the mainstream society, it has been the obligation of every institution in the vicinity to impart quality education and output-oriented training while addressing the upliftment and employment-related anxieties of these sections of the society. Post Graduate Teaching Department (PGTD) of English is committed to sharing this responsibility through its various initiatives from time to time right from its inception in 2012. It has carried out initiatives such as PowerPoint presentations and Poster making competitions for students and teachers in affiliated institutions, workshops on curricula structure, and collaboration in the Continuing Professional Development (CPD) projects sponsored by Hornby trust, UK.

Objectives of the Conference

1. To explore and examine the contemporary trends in National Education Policy 2020 in Endangered Language.
