'Know-Age', an online series of talks @ Post Graduate Teaching Department of English has completed four editions and is heading for the fifth one this year. The driving force is to expose the teaching- learning fraternity to the latest developments and career prospects in the field of English Language & Literature and various other disciplines of learning like Artificial Intelligence (AI) in Learning, Immersive Learning (VR/AR), Microlearning, Online and Blended Learning, Social and Collaborative Learning, Continuous Learning/Upskilling and Reskilling. The current edition of the series hopes to encourage the students and scholars with new approaches of reasoning, creating opportunities for new conceptions and fundamentals in general. The series invites the speakers / teachers for the deliberations and to share their expertise.
