Our age reveals a disparity in the amount of knowledge and wisdom it possesses. According to the author, the most important factor that contributes to wisdom is a comprehensive vision, a sense of proportion, the capacity and the alertness to take into consideration and attach due importance to all the factors involved in a problem. Modern research, with emphasis on specialized knowledge, checks the growth of such a vision. It naturally produces undesirable results. For example, a scientist engaged in a disinterested study of the composition of atom quite unintentionally helps the production of nuclear weapons. Evidently if knowledge multiplies but wisdom does not, it may prove harmful for the people. Besides comprehensive vision, wisdom also needs feelings, since many eminent people with extensive knowledge but narrow feelings have proved very dangerous to humanity. This will necessitate an awareness of the real purpose of human life.

Questions :

- i) What does reveal a disparity in the amount of knowledge and wisdom ?
ii) Which is the most important factor that contributes to wisdom ?
iii) What may prove harmful for the people?
iv) Give suitable title to the passage.
