When the morning work is over, the boys have a bath and go into their meal. At about two O'clock in the afternoon the school classes begin again, but at this time the work is chiefly with the hand as well as with the mind. handiwork is practiced, and a boy's own natural tastes are very soon discovered. Some prefer carpentry; others prefer mechanical work; others become skilled draughtsman or painters or musicians. There is very little bookwork in the afternoon. School is over at about four O'clock and there is a rush to get first into the open fields for football.

Our Shantiniketan boys are famous for their skill at sports and games. In the evening, at sunset, they return from the fields and sit down for a short time to meditate in silence. as night comes on, Fairy Tales are told; short plays are rehearsed; songs of Gurudev are sung, and different school gathering are held. By nine O'clock, all are glad to retire to rest; and the choristers go around the ashram singing their last evening hymn. There can be no question as to the happiness of the life of these boys. Their faces tell the story of their job in their Freedom.
